Introduction

“When day comes, we step out of the shade, aflame and unafraid.

The new dawn blooms as we free it.

For there is always light,

if only we’re brave enough to see it.

If only we’re brave enough to be it.”

AMANDA GORMAN’S THE HILL WE CLIMB

Welcome to our 63rd Annual State Convention! Inspiration for this year’s theme, Aflame and Unafraid, came from Amanda Gorman’s The Hill We Climb, the poem she composed for President Biden’s inauguration.

The past year brought many challenges for the women of this state and this country, but the coming year presents an opportunity for us to step out of the shade of the backwards policies and rhetoric advanced by the GOP, and into a new day. The Democratic Women are ready to see the light, we are ready to be the light. We are aflame with the righteous anger that comes from seeing years of progress reversed one bill at a time, one opinion at a time. We are aflame with the energy we need to change things and the knowledge that we stand on the right side of history. And we are unafraid to speak out when our rights and liberties are being taken away. We are unafraid to contribute our time, our talent, our voices, and our efforts toward making that brighter, lighter, new day come sooner rather than later.

Message from our President

"Welcome to my hometown, the Queen City!"

Dear Fellow Democratic Women,

It's been my pleasure serving as your President for the past year and nine months. Though it didn't all turn out how we wanted, I'm proud of the work we did in 2022 to help get Democrats elected up and down the ticket. We were able to provide more support for more candidates than ever before. We came back for our first in-person convention post-Covid last year and it went great. That's why even though times are bad now, we are determined to emerge from the shadows of the tragic legislation passed by the GOP supermajority, aflame and unafraid of what it will take to win in 2024.

We've planned a fantastic convention for you, that will give us all an opportunity for fellowship, sharing ideas, learning new tactics, and going home energized and ready to organize. During our STARS banquet we'll get to hear from Justice Anita Earls, State Senator and candidate for Lieutenant Governor Rachel Hunt, and US Representative Jeff Jackson. You'll have the opportunity to speak with our statewide candidates during our speed dating lunch. And check out the great breakouts we're bringing you!

I can't wait to sing karaoke with you all at our "fire and ice" themed welcome party. Get ready to set the world on fire with the Democratic Women of North Carolina!

Warmly,

M. Elizabeth Goodwin

Elizabeth Goodwin
President, DWNC

The Hill We Climb

Amanda Gorman

When day comes, we ask ourselves, where can we find light in this never-ending shade?

The loss we carry. A sea we must wade.

We braved the belly of the beast.

We've learned that quiet isn't always peace, and the norms and notions of what "just" is isn't always justice.

And yet the dawn is ours before we knew it.

Somehow we do it.

Somehow we weathered and witnessed a nation that isn't broken, but simply unfinished.

We, the successors of a country and a time where a skinny Black girl descended from slaves and raised by a single mother can dream of becoming president, only to find herself reciting for one.

And, yes, we are far from polished, far from pristine, but that doesn't mean we are striving to form a union that is perfect.

We are striving to forge our union with purpose.

To compose a country committed to all cultures, colors, characters and conditions of man.

And so we lift our gaze, not to what stands between us, but what stands before us.

We close the divide because we know to put our future first, we must first put our differences aside.

We lay down our arms so we can reach out our arms to one another.

We seek harm to none and harmony for all.

Let the globe, if nothing else, say this is true.

That even as we grieved, we grew.

That even as we hurt, we hoped.

That even as we tired, we tried.

That we'll forever be tied together, victorious.

Not because we will never again know defeat, but because we will never again sow division.

Scripture tells us to envision that everyone shall sit under their own vine and fig tree, and no one shall make them afraid.

If we're to live up to our own time, then victory won't lie in the blade, but in all the bridges we've made.

That is the promise to glade, the hill we climb, if only we dare.

It's because being American is more than a pride we inherit.

It's the past we step into and how we repair it.

We've seen a force that would shatter our nation, rather than share it.

Would destroy our country if it meant delaying democracy.

And this effort very nearly succeeded.

But while democracy can be periodically delayed, it can never be permanently defeated.

In this truth, in this faith we trust, for while we have our eyes on the future, history has its eyes on us.

This is the era of just redemption.

We feared at its inception.

We did not feel prepared to be the heirs of such a terrifying hour.

But within it we found the power to author a new chapter, to offer hope and laughter to ourselves.

So, while once we asked, how could we possibly prevail over catastrophe, now we assert, how could catastrophe possibly prevail over us?

We will not march back to what was, but move to what shall be: a country that is bruised but whole, benevolent but bold, fierce and free.

We will not be turned around or interrupted by intimidation because we know our inaction and inertia will be the inheritance of the next generation, become the future.

Our blunders become their burdens.

But one thing is certain.

If we merge mercy with might, and might with right, then love becomes our legacy and change our children's birthright.

So let us leave behind a country better than the one we were left.

Every breath from my bronze-pounded chest, we will raise this wounded world into a wondrous one.

We will rise from the golden hills of the West.

We will rise from the windswept Northeast where our forefathers first realized revolution.

We will rise from the lake-rimmed cities of the Midwestern states.

We will rise from the sun-baked South.

We will rebuild, reconcile, and recover.

And every known nook of our nation and every corner called our country, our people diverse and beautiful, will emerge battered and beautiful.

When day comes, we step out of the shade aflame and unafraid.

The new dawn blooms as we free it.

For there is always light, if only we're brave enough to see it.

If only we're brave enough to be it.

DA Merriweather proudly stands with Democratic Women, who move our state forward everyday by acting on conscience, moving with purpose, and pursuing justice.

We welcome the Democratic Women of North Carolina to the Mecklenburg County this weekend, and we congratulate you on your 63rd Annual State Convention!

for State Treasurer

My life has been defined by strong women. Growing up, my mother and sisters taught me the value of hard work and the importance of community. The values I learned from them are what make North Carolina great, and they're the reason why I'm running for State Treasurer.

Right now, our state has lost its way. The GOP is attacking everything from abortion rights to LGBTQ+ rights to the very foundations of our public education system. Meanwhile, working families all over North Carolina are struggling due to lack of investment. If we want to take our state back and give our communities the opportunities they deserve, we have to stand together for a better future for our state. That work starts right here.

Thank you so much for being here—the work that Democratic Women all over NC will put in between now and November of 2024 will be absolutely crucial to taking our state back and ending the GOP's attack on our communities.

Guest Speakers

Charlotte Mayor Vi Lyles

Vi Lyles is a Democrat serving her third term as mayor of Charlotte, a city that has experienced significant growth and economic success under her leadership. Under Mayor Lyles' direction, Charlotte has been a leader in community engagement and action to address affordable housing. Mayor Lyles has also led efforts to anticipate and plan for growth, focusing on transportation infrastructure and community safety.

US Rep. Jeff Jackson

As a state legislator, veteran, former assistant district attorney, and current member of the Army National Guard, Jeff has dedicated his life to public service. He's running to bring that record of service and transparency to the Congress. Congressman Jackson became the second-youngest NC Senator in the state Senate in 2014. He was new to political office, but not new to public service, having enlisted after the attacks of September 11th, trained at Ft. Bragg, and served in Afghanistan.

Sen. Rachel Hunt, Candidate for Lt. Governor

Rachel is a lawyer, an entrepreneur, and the daughter of a former teacher and a former NC Governor who left office in 2001 after raising teacher pay up to the national average. She is currently serving in the North Carolina State Senate, where she's earned the reputation as an advocate for common-sense solutions to the challenges facing our public schools, health care and local economy.

NC Supreme Court Justice Anita Earls

Justice Earls is an American civil rights attorney, educator and Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. She previously served as the executive director of the Southern Coalition for Social Justice, as well as a Deputy Assistant Attorney General in the Civil Rights Division of the United States Department of Justice during the Clinton administration. Earls has written numerous opinions of significance on issues such as the North Carolina Racial Justice Act, the maintenance of privacy rights associated with warrantless searches, and media defamation suits.

Breakout Sessions

Understanding Proposed Election Law Changes

Senator Mujtaba Mohammed (HD 38)

Republicans recently passed sweeping election law changes. Governor Cooper has vetoed the bill, but we expect his veto to be overridden by the GOP supermajority. Hear from one of the legislators in the room where it happened-- Sen. Mohammed will explain what the new changes will mean for NC voters, how he helped mitigate some of the effects of this law, and what we can do to prepare for a new experience at the polls in 2024.

Public School Strong- Confronting Extremism in Our Schools

HEAL Together NC

The HEAL Together NC coalition is a group of like minded parents, educators and public school supporters that are committed to working together to win schools that are fully-funded, safe, and that provide an honest education for our students. We want to end attacks on our schools and start winning policies that support them. We invite you to join HEAL Together NC for a Surge for Public Schools training. Radical groups like Moms for Liberty are currently the loudest voices and they get the most media attention. We believe that a showing of hundreds of people across the state can help change the current media narrative and help us reach the thousands of not-yet-organized parents across the state. Join us for a great breakout session where you will learn how to organize against radical extremist taking over your county's curriculum and school board.

Maximizing Youth Engagement

Allison Allen-Mongo, Sydney Meeks, Anna Rios

High youth turnout is pivotal to winning state and national elections in 2024. In fact, youth turn out played a huge role in crushing the predicted "red wave" in the midterms. Now is the time to maximize the moment and the movement. This session will focus on tools you can use to bring young people into the fold. Brought to you by three of our favorite YD women- Allison Allen, Anna Rios, and Sydney Meeks.

Chapter Builder: Legislative Lobbying Kit

Vickie Zangwill and Katie Tomberlin

Trying to find a great way to educate your members on the issues? Interested in lobbying our legislators? Join DWNC Legislative Committee Chair Vickie Zangwill and committee member Katie Tomberlin to walk through the lobbying kit created by the DWNC Legislative Committee and learn how to use it effectively within your chapters.

Chapter Builder: Treasurers Tips and Tricks

Denise Castleberry Hall

Being your chapter's treasurer is a big responsibility but it doesn't have to be a big hassle. Learn tips and tricks from DWNC's own treasurer, Denis Hall, in this breakout. You'll get a nice refresher on the rules, and a chance to ask any questions you may have about writing those reports!
